Artzooka!

cd curtain

check list:

1. lots of recycled CDs
2. a long strip of plastic (you can also use a strip of cloth or a long string)
3. small toys, trinkets and other cool stuff you'd like to see hanging on the curtain

Need help?

Watch the video:
www.cbc.ca/kidscbc/artzooka

1 Tie a large loop at one end of the long plastic strip. You will use this loop to hang your CD curtain.

2 A few inches below the knot of your loop push the plastic strip through the CD hole to create another loop. Make if big enough to stick your finger through.

3 Slide a small toy in the mini loop and pull the strip on both sides to tighten the toy. This will lock the toy in place.

TIP: If you have trouble with a toy staying in the loop, just wrap an elastic band around the loop (between the toy and the CD) to firmly keep the toy in place.

4 Use four fingers to help measure the distance between each CD.

5 Add another CD by repeating the previous steps. First, push the strip of plastic through the CD hole.

6 Slide the toy into the loop.

7 Pull the strip on both sides to tighten the toy in place.

8 Repeat the steps until the whole strip is covered. Then, start on a new strip. You can make as many CD curtains as you like with anything that you want: trucks dolls, pencils, etc.

9 Once you're finished, hang your CD curtain. Notice how the light reflects off the shiny CDs and creates shimmering patterns on the wall!

Another brilliant idea to help brighten your room the Artzooka way!